

The Property

The property is ready for the boys to move in to. The Hutchisons helped to put the final touches in terms of painting the floors and cleaning the kitchen.

We have spent some time equipping and resourcing so that we have all the things necessary to run a home.

The boys will move in on my return to Lesotho in August.

YWAM made us two bunk beds for the boys to sleep in.

About the Boys

The boys are coping out on the street this winter, and so far it has not been too cold. We worked with Youth for Christ and the boys made blankets, and their shelter is watertight and windproof if nothing else.

Kelebohile, who I talked about in last month's newsletter, has gone home! His mum came from Johannesburg, collected him from MIS and took him back to South Africa with her.

Matsebang is doing well and has set up a shop in her garden. She has also got a job with the World Food Programme.

Samuel

This is Samuel, our new housefather. Samuel will have responsibility for running the house, preparing programmes for the boys, liaising with schools and basically being a young dad for the boys.

Samuel is on fire for God, and feels he has a calling to work with the street boys. He did a DTS with them at the start of the year.

Jonnie

Jonnie will help out by running the house when Samuel is having his time off. Jonnie lives in the village and has been helping to do up the property.

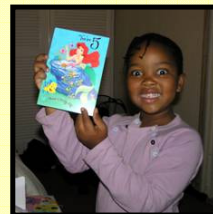

This leaves only two boys under fifteen who will move into our place soon. We will then probably target the boys aged fifteen.

Family Life

We are preparing for our visit back to Scotland in the middle of July, and Palesa is coming to the end of her school year. Last week she celebrated her fifth birthday.

We also moved house last week, and are now renting a room in a community with eight other volunteers, mostly from New Zealand. It is great until someone locks the whole toilet block so that no-one comes in when they are having a shower! Pray for my patience!!!!

Prayer Points

- That we fit into the community living and can relax in our home
- For a restful trip to Scotland and quality time with family
- Thanks to God that Samuel's friend Metsing has agreed to move into the house with him in the initial weeks
- For Samuel, as he works with the boys on the street while we are back in Scotland
